AN UNTIMATUM.

It Has Been Sent to the Chilean Government.

NO FURTHER DELAY TOLERATED

The Strongest Possible Terms Used That Diplomatic Relations Between the Two Countries Will Cease, Unless the Offensive Circular Note Sent Out by Senator Matta in Regard to the Baltimore Affair is Withdrawn—The Situation as Seen at Washington—The President's Message Ready for Congress. Minister Egan's First Letter to the Chilean Government.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Jan. 25.—It was learned Saturday that the question at issue between Chile and the United States has assumed a most acute phase. This information is to the effect that the Chilean government has received from the government of the United States an ultimatum which, in the strongest possible terms, states that diplomatic relations between the two countries will cease unless the offensive circular note sent out by Senator Matta, recently the Chilean foreign minister, in regard to the Baltimore affair, is withdrawn.

Furthermore, the ultimatum demands that Chile immediately make reparation for the attack by the mob upon the Baltimore sailors in Valparaiso, and that she make an apology for those attacks.

The ultimatum concludes with the statement that the United States will tolerate no further delay on the part of Chile answering the demands of the American government.

CHILE'S REPLY.

The Ultimatum Will Be Answered Some Time Today.

VALPARAISO, Jan. 25.—The correspondent of the United Press is informed that Minister Kennedy, representing Great Britain at Santiago, has received definite instructions from his government to make an offer to the government of Chile to act as mediator between that country and the United States for the purpose of preventing a war.

The Chilean foreign minister, Senor Peirera, has informed Minister Egan that the message from the United States government received on Saturday, and which is regarded as an ultimatum, will be answered on Monday. Nothing is suggested as to the tenor of the answer. Both the Chileans and foreign residents in Valparaiso and Santiago are greatly excited over the situation, but no demonstration of violence is reported.

AS VIEWED IN WASHINGTON.

Nothing Officially Learned, but Prospects Look Threatening.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Yesterday was Sunday, but notwithstanding the generally peaceful character of the day, there was any amount of talk over the prospects of trouble with Chile, in view of the dispatch of an ultimatum by this government to South American republic. All the departments were closed, and of course there was no official or public manifestations in connection with the matter. Inquiries at the departments were answered, in most cases, by the messenger and watchmen on duty, and there was no indication on the surface of the excitement that existed in official circles.

At the navy department two or three officials were found, but they united in saying that nothing had been received from either Valparaiso or Callao, so that if Captain Evans has reached there with the Yorktown and landed the refugees taken aboard from the United States legation at Santiago, they have not learned the fact. As has been stated, the navy department does not expect to hear officially from Valparaiso until the Yorktown returns. The vessel should have reached Callao yesterday under ordinary conditions of going.

One of the officials said the stories that Admiral Gherardi had sailed away to the east in the Philadelphia, to meet and engage the Captain Prat, as the latter sailed away from Toulon in an incomplete condition with an inexperienced crew were fanciful creations, but he would not say where the admiral had gone, if he knew. There is an extraordinary degree of mystery surrounding the movements of this officer and the squadron under him.

No information was to be had at the state department, none of the officials through whom communications reach the public having visited the building during the day.

The terms of the ultimatum to Chile have not been correctly given in any of the dispatches referring to it. Three subjects are covered by the document. The assault upon the Baltimore's sailors is the first. The secretary of state directs Mr. Egan to inform the Chilean government that after a full and careful examination of evidence of that affair, as submitted by the Chilean authorities, and as shown in the examination of the Baltimore's sailors, the president feels compelled to stand by the terms of Assistant Secretary Wharton's instructions to Minister Egan, given Oct. 23, and to insist upon apology and reparation therefor.

The second subject is the Matta circular note of Dec. 13. This note, the Chilean government is informed, is offensive to the president and other officers of the United States, and that unless it is promptly withdrawn and the language disavowed by the Chilean government in equally public and general form as that in which it was circulated, Minister Egan will ask for passports and diplomatic relations between the countries will cease.

The third subject is the proposed recall of Minister Egan. Acknowledgment is made of the receipt of Minister Montt's note, stating that Minister Egan is not persona grata to the government of Chile, and announcing the readiness and desire of that government to receive another representative of the United States at Santiago. Upon this subject the government of Chile is informed that the note can not now be considered. There are other and weightier matters pending settlement, and when they are satisfactorily disposed of this government will then consider the request for the recall of Minister Egan.

The United States minister was, of course, notified of the receipt of the note from Senor Montt, and it is said a message has been received from him stating that the members of the Chilean government authorized a discussion of such matters. Certain it is that up to the receipt of Mr. Montt's note the records do not show any indication of dissatisfaction with Mr. Egan by the Chilean authorities. When President Jorge Montt announced the formation of his cabinet on the first instant, Mr. Egan expressed his satisfaction, stating that two members were his personal friends and he expected to find his future relations with all the members of the cabinet most pleasant. There seems to be no doubt that President Harrison will send his message to congress today. The program of the two houses will probably be that it will be read and then referred to the committees having charge of foreign affairs, to be printed with accompanying documents and correspondence. Its future consideration will then be a subject for the determination of the senators and representatives.

A visit to Secretary Blaine's residence last night for Chilean news was without results, the secretary declining to talk. Minister Montt was none the less reserved. He declined to answer any inquiries concerning Chilean affairs, and said he had no news to give out.

Since Wednesday clerks at the navy department have been working continuously day and night on the Chilean correspondence, and Sunday night there was a large force at work in Assistant Secretary Soley's office correcting proofs of the report to be submitted to congress.

An incident which goes to show that Minister Montt regards the situation as very grave, occurred a few evenings ago at the house of a cabinet officer, when the minister, in speaking of the Chilean question, became so painfully excited that the subject had to be dropped.

MINISTER EGAN'S FIRST LETTER.

A Complete Review of the Trouble Between the Two Countries.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Diario, the official organ of the Chilean government at Santiago, publishes the first letter from Minister Egan to the Chilean government in connection with the assault upon the sailors of the Unit 1 States steamer Baltimore. The letter is given without comments from the official organ, which sets forth that the correspondence is published owing to the words of President Harrison, as contained in his message to the United States congress at its opening. The letter, which is given out from the office of the Chilean minister of foreign affairs, reads as follows:

Legation of the United States, Santiago, Oct. 23, 1891.

SIR—In compliance with instructions received from my government it becomes my duty to call the attention of your excellency to a very lamentable incident that took place on the 15th inst. in the streets of Valparaiso in the form of an assault upon certain sailors belonging to the United States war vessel Baltimore, resulting in the death of two men and the wounding of some seventeen, more or less seriously.

Immediately upon reception of the news by the United States navy department the commander of the Baltimore, Captain Schley, received orders to institute an immediate investigation in order to ascertain the origin and incidents of this tragic affair, and to make report simultaneously to the government of the United States and to the legation.

The report upon these investigations, made by a council of officers carefully selected from said vessel, has been received, together with a communication from Captain Schley, which shows that the sailors of the Baltimore were unarmed; that their conduct was entirely correct and orderly; that they gave no cause of provocation; that the attack appeared premeditated, and that the assaults were made by armed persons of a much superior number; and that, as my government is made to understand, they were inspired in their bloody work by hostility to those men as sailors of the United States.

The conflict appears to have originated in the fact that a Chilean sailor spat in the face of one of the sailors of the Baltimore. In the meantime, and very close at hand, there was a compact crowd under the leadership of recently enlisted sailors of the Chilean fleet, who were ready for and awaiting the assault. The two men who were first attacked, having escaped, were pursued and taken from a car, and one of them was left wounded and dying in the street, and while a companion was endeavoring to conduct him to a drug store both were attacked with firearms, and the wounded man, Charles W. Riggan, was killed by a ball entering his neck. Then commenced a confused attack that extended itself to other very distant parts of the city against the sailors of the United States wherever they were to be found, with bayonets, knives, clubs and stones.

The police, in the meantime, either did not interfere to protect them or they participated in the attack, as in the case of the death of Riggan, or they arrested these sailors and dragged them off to prison in the most extremely barbarous manner.

Besides the death of Riggan, other individuals were seriously injured, as follows:

W. Turnbull, eighteen wounds in the back, two of them penetrating the lungs, besides two contusions in the head and various bruises. Some of the wounds were made with bayonets. This man died.

J. Hamilton, a wound in the buttocks and right side of the back, two contusions in the head, and various wounds in the back, made with bayonets.

J. Talbot, two deep wounds in back, which penetrated the lungs between the seventh and eighth ribs, and various bruises about the body.

C. Panter, a slight wound in the head and numerous contusions.

J. H. Davison, a slight wound in the head and his body seriously bruised.

J. Henderson, two cuts (stabs) in the left side of the back. One wound is five inches deep and is of a serious nature.

William Canfield, J. Kingley, J. Clifford, M. Honlham, J. Smith, J. Bailey, J. Macbride, J. Gilem, W. Lacy, R. J. Dodge, J. Mooney and J. Fredericks, wounded in various manners.

Your excellency will yourself perceive from the character of many of the wounds that the police, or some of them, instead of affording protection to the assaulted men, took part in this cowardly attack, and generally acted as against these unarmed people with brutality.

John Hamilton, for example, when, after having been thrown to the ground through being stoned, was seriously stabbed in the groin and back with a bayonet, and was cruelly dragged while in an unconscious condition by two policemen toward the prison.

J. S. Dodge, while he was being assaulted with stones, was struck with a sword by an official who wore a white cap.

J. J. Williams was arrested by a policeman on horseback, who placed handcuffs on his wrists and caused his horse to move at a gallop, dragging him to the ground. Having dismounted, the policeman caused his horse to walk, and, taking Williams by the handcuffs, conducted him to the station.

C. MacWilliams was arrested and conducted to the police station with his hands tied with cords and a lasso around his neck.

J. Kingley, while attempting to escape from the tumult, was wounded with the sword of a police official.

J. Talbot, being seriously wounded, was arrested in a saloon in which he had taken refuge from the tumult, dragged through the streets with handcuffs on his hands, and was repeatedly maltreated by the policeman.

Nearly thirty sailors of the United States were arrested in this manner without any apparent motive, and some of them, by order of the authorities, remained four days in prison.

The friendly efforts of several officers, and men of the army toward helping the attacked men is all that can be shown to mitigate the aspect of the question.

My government has ordered me to call the attention of the government of your excellency to the fact that, notwithstanding this cruel deed, so injurious to the United States, took place on the 15th inst., no expression of regret has been made, not even the proposal to make the corresponding investigation, with a view to establish a righteous procedure, in order to punish the delinquents who have so directly offended the government of the United States.

I am, moreover, in possession of instructions to obtain from your excellency, if such be in the possession of the government of your excellency, some qualifying facts, or some explanation that can offer itself for an event that so profoundly injured the people of the United States, not alone for the death of the two sailors of my nation, and for the inhuman wounds of many others, but also as an apparent expression of an enmity toward the government of the United States that is liable to place in danger the maintenance of the friendly relations between the two countries.

If the facts are such as have been expressed by Captain Schley, my government can not doubt your excellency will offer prompt reparation, proportionate to the gravity of the referred to injury. Renewing to your excellency, etc.,

PATRICK EGAN.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE,

Together with the Correspondence, Makes a Very Bulky Document.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The message and accompanying documents, correspondence, etc., form a bulky volume. The message, as has been stated, will comprise, it is believed, not more than 4,000 or 5,000 words. But the state department correspondence with Minister Egan and with the Chilean legation of this city, including the inclosures explanatory of some of the dispatches, and comprising official correspondence here and in Chile, will make nearly, if not quite, 240,000 words.

Besides this the correspondence of the navy department with its officers, which covers the Itata affair in extenso and the full report of the testimony taken at the examination of the Baltimore's sailors in Vallejo, Cal., is estimated at fully 100,000 words additional.

Arming the War Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Activity at the Washington navy yard continues, and Commodore Folger, of the ordnance bureau, leaves his desk at the navy department at times to go to the yard to survey the work and see the progress that is being made. One carload of 500 projectiles has been shipped to New York for the Miantonomoh, and more cars will soon take another supply. The shells, however, are cast steel and not armor piercing projectiles.

The second gun for the Monterey is now at the naval proving grounds, Indian Head, Maryland, undergoing its tests, which, it is understood, have proved successful. A car is at the navy yard waiting to take it to San Francisco and as soon as it reaches the yard will be placed upon it and shipped immediately.

CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

What Will Be Done if the Week Is Not Occupied with the Chilean Affair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Notwithstanding the expectation that the president will send his message on the Chilean affair and the correspondence accompanying it to congress this week, the senate and house managers have prepared a program of business which they will bring forward if the discussion of the message does not consume the entire week, or if it is not sent in. If the message does not appear, however, indications point to a long debate, unless the president recommends some action of a peaceable nature.

When the senate adjourned Thursday the Well and La Abra claims were under discussion, and it is probable that they will take up much of the time of the senate this week, provided, of course, that the Chilean affair does not come up. The bill to reorganize the present method of distributing public documents known as the "printing bill," is also on the program of the senate and it will have its share of discussion if time remains. The new rules will take precedence of all the business in the house, the Chilean message excepted. A lively debate on them is expected.

Discussion of the bill appropriating $1,000,000 additional for the census bureau is also contemplated. These two measures will be sufficient, it is believed, to consume the entire week, with what incidental business may come up.

STOLEN CHILD RECOVERED.

Horrible Story of a Husband's Brutality Near Evansville, Ind.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25.—The recovery Saturday evening of a little child who was stolen from its mother four years ago, brought to light a horrible story of a husband's brutality. Detective Wilson crossed the river and recovered a little girl from an old shanty, in charge of a family. Mrs. William Walker, the child's mother, was sent for, and her meeting with the little one was most affecting. She is a good-looking woman, daughter of Greenberry Hughes, of Madison, Ind., formerly of Kentucky. She was raised in Trimble county, Ky. At the age of fifteen she eloped and married Tillford Bowman, her cousin. Less than a month after her marriage Bowman began drinking and abusing his young wife, even bringing disreputable women home.

They went to Cincinnati after a marriage, and then to Madison, Ind. After years of roving from place to place, they separated, but not till five children were born. The woman then goes into a horrible recital of brutality on the part of her husband and a woman named Prindle, while she was sick in confinement. While the couple lived in Louisville twins were born, one of whom died a week later. Bowman got drunk and threw the little corpse from the room. Neighbors raised money and buried it. The other died and was buried the same way. A final separation of the parties occurred four years ago, and Mrs. Bowman got a divorce, and the father kidnapped the child.

Bowman took up with a woman named Briggs. The latter was caught in a storm here recently, and stopped in a house for shelter, which proved to be the home of Bowman's former wife, now Mrs. Walker. They engaged in conversation, and the Briggs woman unconsciously referred to Bowman. Mrs. Walker followed the woman and learned their location, but the parties left the city before the police could arrest them. They were on their way down the river in a family boat when it was wrecked yesterday. They took shelter in a cabin across the river, and were discovered by detectives. Mrs. Walker is a highly respectable woman. Quite a sensation results over the recovery of the child.

Let the World Know It.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25.—The prolonged inquest into what caused the death of Colonel Melville McKee, who lived a week after being in the late Monon wreck, was brought to a close Saturday evening in the office of the local railroad surgeon, who was the chief witness examined. It will be remembered that Mrs. McKee refused to allow a post-mortem examination to be made and then the railroad surgeon made the statement that death had resulted from heart disease, and not from the actual injuries received from the plunge of the cars down the embankment. The coroner, after the close of the inquest, went to his home at New Ross, and has not filed his verdict as yet.

Embezzler and Forger Arrested.

DELAWARE, O., Jan. 25.—The police of this city have under arrest Eugene J. Kirby, formerly assistant cashier of the National City bank of Marshall, Mich., who is wanted for embezzlement and forgery. He gives the name of J. R. Meeker of Bridgeport, Conn., but he answers the description of Kirby in every particular, and letters found in his pocket confirm the opinion of the police. The chief of police of Marshall has been notified.

HAMILTON, O., Jan. 25.—W. R. Clawson, a resident of Eaton, aged thirty-six, representing the Western Paint company, of Cincinnati, was walking along the railroad track Saturday and was crossing a trestle, when he was struck by an engine and hurled quite a distance and seriously injured.

Infants dying in infancy, and all other persons who are not guilty of actual transgression, are included in the election of grace, and are saved and regenerated by Christ through the Spirit who worketh when and where and how He pleaseth. So, also, are all others elected, persons who are not outwardly called by the ministry of the Word.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

Senate Lottery Resolution Reported Favorably in the House—Other Matters Disposed of.

In the House Saturday the Judiciary Committee reported favorably the Hoertz Senate bill directing the Attorney General to institute legal proceedings to suppress lotteries, and the bill was ordered to its second reading.

The Tinsley House bill on the same subject was reported adversely and killed. The same committee reported favorably Mr. Simms' bill to authorize Fiscal Courts to issue bonds for the purpose of building or repairing jails, court houses, etc.

The first bill to pass the house this session was that of Mr. Bennett, of Greenup. It was a bill to repeal the road laws of that county.

The Eastern Kentucky Land Title bill came up when the orders of the day were reached.

Mr. Halbert, of Lewis, and Mr. Ball, of Henderson, each made speeches against the bill, in which they argued that a constitutional point was in question; and that by its action the holders of land in that section might lose their titles in court.

Mr. Arnett, of Magoffin, and Mr. Kirk, of Johnson, spoke for it.

Mr. Whitaker, of Covington, made an able speech, in the course of which he said he did not think the statute would be worth the paper it was written on.

The bill was finally passed almost unanimously. It provides that the taxes must have been paid for twenty years to enable a man to bring suit for the recovery of land held under a grant from Virginia or Kentucky prior to 1820.

The Charlton resolution declaring that the members of this Legislature have a right to use free railroad passes, was given its second reading, and Mr. Simms made a motion to lay it on the table. The motion was adopted by a vote of 64 to 5. The nays were McInerney, Severs, Bush, Bashaw and Arnet.

In the Senate Mr. Hargis created a buzz of comment by introducing a resolution which is in accordance with the constitutional provision on the subject to prohibit the placing of more than two counties in any one Legislative district.

Mr. Stewart introduced a bill which seeks to provide a cheaper system of text books for the common schools than is now in use. A bill somewhat similar to this was before the last Legislature, but only passed one house.

Rev. H. B. Taylor's Funeral.

The funeral of Rev. H. B. Taylor took place Saturday afternoon at Falmouth, and was conducted by Rev. J. C. Walden, of Cynthiana. The remains were brought here that evening and taken to the home of Mr. George T. Wood. They were accompanied by the family of the deceased and by Dr. John Larew, of St. Louis, and Mr. John Larew, of Shawhan. Sunday afternoon the body was committed to its final resting place in the Maysville Cemetery, after prayer by Rev. C. S. Lucas. The burial was private.

The Covington Commonwealth's account of his death was a little inaccurate. Mrs. Taylor had arrived from Cincinnati and she and her husband and daughter had started from the depot for their home. Mr. Taylor stepped into a drugstore to get some medicine, the others continuing on their way. He took a seat on the counter. Shortly afterwards he started to get down and as he did so he suddenly placed his hand on his heart, with an exclamation of pain, and sank to the floor, dying almost instantly.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Taxes are High in Ohio—In Brown County the Total Nearly $200,000 This Year.

If some Kentuckians lived in Ohio, they would squirm when the tax-collector called on them to settle.

The Gazette of Georgetown recently published some interesting figures, embracing a recapitulation of the tax duplicate of Brown County as taken from an abstract prepared by Auditor Hebling. The total number of acres of land in the county, is 308,461, valued at $4,865,955. The total value of real estate in cities and villages is $841,712. The value of personal property is $2,926,990. This makes a total value on the realty and personalty in the county $8,634,657. On this amount the taxes are levied.

The State will get for all purposes $21,155.52.

The county gets $21,587 to pay court expenses, salaries, stationary, jail expenses, and other general expenses. The poor fund gets $12,083, for Infirmary and Children's Home. For construction of bridges the sum of $8,634 is levied. For indigent soldiers, $863. For road tax, which includes pike repair, county roads and township roads, the amount is $23,177. To pay bonded indebtedness and pay for pikes being built $23,314. The sum of $11,175 goes to the different townships to be expended by Trustees of the various townships. The sum of $48,105 will be collected to run the schools of the county. This, however, is not all, as the county has to pay to the State $8,634 for school purposes but will receive back about $15,000 which should be added to $48,105, which will make a total for the schools in the county $63,106. The sum of $11,427 will be raised to run the incorporated villages, and $1,729 for general elections.

The total taxes for county, township and corporations, says the Gazette, makes a grand total of $183,257.

There is a delinquency on real estate of $25,687 and on personal property $41,213. The total taxes levied, with delinquent tax, foot up $260,457.

The number of dogs in the county returned by the Assessors are, male 2,353, female 128. The latter are taxed $2 per head and the former $1, consequently the dog tax will amount to $2,589, providing it is all collected.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Grand Jury Discharged—What They Say in Their Final Report.

Sherman Jackson and Marshall Rudd, colored, were acquitted of the charge of hogstealing. They killed the animal by mistake, so they claimed. A sister of Rudd asked them to kill one of her hogs, but the one they slaughtered turned out to be John Larkin's.

The case of Gillespie against the C. and O. Railroad company was dismissed settled, by agreement of parties.

Charles Warner, colored, was convicted of petit larceny—stealing an overcoat—and was given one hundred days in jail at hard labor.

The grand jury reported nine indictments, presented their final report and were discharged for the term. One of the indictments was for keeping a disorderly house, five for selling liquor to a minor, one for Sabbath breaking, one for violating local option law and one for carrying concealed a deadly weapon. Following is the grand jury's report:

"The grand jury at the close of their deliberations desire to thank our public officers in attendance upon the term of court for their uniform courtesy and attention, and for the faithful discharge of their official duties. We also congratulate our fellow citizens of this county that we have not been called upon to charge any one with any great or shocking crime against the Commonwealth. We have diligently enquired into and investigated all infractions of the law that came under our notice and disposed of the same to the best of our abilities, in the interest of law and order. We deplore the indifference with which some violate their own self respect and their solemn obligations in the discharge of their duties as witnesses before the grand jury. Such imposition upon credulity is contrary to all logical rules of inference. We may see them so intoxicated as to require the assistance of friends and they remember every occurrence except the potential factor of perjury, that sold or gave them whisky. Such conduct is an obstruction in our courts of justice and a menace to our institutions. We find our public buildings in good condition. We would, however, call attention to the fact that our public records are not as secure against fire as they should be. Believing we have discharged the duties incumbent upon us we submit this as our report and ask to be discharged."

FORTY-CANDLE POWER.

The Welsback Burner Makes the Harris Gas a Very Brilliant Illuminant.

By using what is known as the Welsback burner, the Harris gas is made a brilliant illuminant.

This burner is a simple contrivance, easily attached. Mr. J. S. Stephens, of Pittsburg, who is interested in the invention, came here a few days since and fitted up several of these burners in rooms at the fuel gas works in the West End. He had little faith in the Harris gas when he came, and was astonished at the splendid results. By using these burners, a brilliant illuminating gas is obtained. Mr. Stephens pronounces it a light of forty-candle power, about twice as strong a light as that produced by the old process gas.

An exhibition of the gas as used in this burner was given Friday afternoon. The public were invited. Those who were present saw several burners arranged in a row only a foot or two apart in one of the rooms. All were very brilliant, the light being white and perfectly steady, no flickering or flaring at all. One gentleman says it beats the light from an Argand burner. The holder was emptied, and refilled with fresh gas, the process of filling it requiring seven minutes by the watch.

Mr. Stephens had also fitted up some cooking and heating stoves with the burners used in consuming natural gas, and the result was most satisfactory.

Mr. Stephens is represented as an expert on gas, and is a member of the company owning and manufacturing the Welsback and some other burners. He says they make it a business to inspect and test every gas invented, and that the Rose fuel gas of Pittsburg, used by Carnegie, is nothing compared with the Harris gas. He figured on the cost of piping Maysville and of a plant large enough to supply the city, and says it can be done for $40,000. This includes a holder with a capacity of 75,000 feet. The present holder has a capacity of only 6,000. He thinks the company can supply gas at 30 cents per 1,000, and says at this rate the works ought to pay for themselves and pay a dividend of 4 1/2 per cent. the first year.

As Staple as Coffee.

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is as staple as coffee in this vicinity. It has done an immense amount of good since its introduction here."—A. M. Nordoll, Maple Ridge, Minn. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

ANOTHER COASTING ACCIDENT.

Harris Alexander Seriously Injured on Fourth Street Sunday Morning.

Harris Alexander, son of Sheriff Alexander, was seriously injured while coasting Sunday morning. The accident happened on Fourth street, between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Ever since the sleet and snow fell a week or two ago, Fourth street has been recognized as a dangerous track, and it was but little used as long as Market street furnished the coasters a place of amusement. What made Fourth street so dangerous was an ash-pile near the head of Sutton. It was a difficult matter to guide the sleds by this obstruction, and many have met with slight injuries at the point named.

The freeze Saturday night the made street icy, and the track a fast one. Quite a crowd of men and boys were out Sunday morning enjoying the sport, among them Harris Alexander and Harry Agnew. The two latter started down on a sled, Agnew steering. They struck the ash-pile and were overturned. Some six or eight other sleds, heavily loaded, were close behind, and all these were wrecked, piling up in a confused mass.

Alexander was the only one dangerously hurt. One arm was badly broken above the elbow and he was otherwise injured. He was carried to Dr. Owens' office, where the fracture was set. He was then taken home, where he is confined to his bed. An examination showed that his head was injured in eight places, and one of his legs was bruised. It was feared at first that he was injured internally also. He was getting along as well as could be expected this morning.

HAVING determined to discontinue business, W. L. Thomas & Brother offer their entire stock of goods at greatly reduced prices. The stock is full and complete, consisting of heating and cook stoves, tinware, iron, stone and granite ware, china, glass and queensware, pottery goods, etc., etc. This is a rare chance to buy goods at low prices. Call early and pick out what you want. 25-1f

For many years Prof. Bristol has been before the public and he enjoys the proud distinction of being the first man to exhibit to the public a troupe of horses trained by himself. Since his advent as an exhibitor many have followed him, but gradually one by one dropped out until now he has the field alone.

MINER'S MAXIMS.

You may deceive all sometime; some all the time, but not all all the time.

Good Shoes are a pleasure to the wearer; bad Shoes are not worth the powder to blow them to perdition. Good Shoes are no more expensive than bad ones, but bad Shoes are dear at any price, and sensible people can not be paid to wear them.

There isn't anything like as much art in purchasing Shoes as there is in making them, but it is just as easy to buy indifferent or execrable Shoes as it is to purchase an article a million miles beyond criticism. The one great requisite is that you should know what you are buying. How are you going to find out? Rely on your own judgment and you are more than liable to be mistaken, for you cannot be expected to have the discriminating eye of an expert. What is the alternative? It is that you shall rely upon the judgment of the dealer, but before you can do that you must be certain that his honor is as trustworthy as his capacity.

You need not know any more about the quality of a Shoe than a polar bear does about the tariff to be quite certain that you can depend upon what you buy from MINER.

FAMINE PREVENTION

Russia Taking Measures to Relieve the Starving Peasants.

A NEW SCHEME TO BE TRIED.

The Government Has Decided to Experiment With Co-Operative Farming With a View to Prevent a Repetition of the Present State of Affairs—Other Foreign Notes.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—The government, with the view of averting a repetition of the famine, has decided to make experiments in co-operative farming. Plots of ground will be allotted for this purpose to communities in the provinces of Saratoff and Samara, and, if the enterprise proves successful, other plots will be allotted in other provinces. The plots, it is intended, will be cultivated by all the inhabitants, while the yield will be devoted to refilling the communal stocks, and the proceeds of the surplus will be applied to the repayment of local public debts.

Relieving the Distressed.
The authorities are busily occupied with measures to relieve the distress. They have postponed the enactment of the new laws against the Jews and the projected establishment of agricultural institutes in the Baltic provinces. Twenty-five officers of the guards have started for Ufa, Orenburg and other wheat entrepôts to replace civilians in the task of superintending the transportation of wheat to the famine-stricken provinces.

The novelist, Ertel, who is staying in the parish of Makari, in the province of Veronesch, is arranging to feed the inhabitants there. He receives subscriptions amounting to $500 monthly for the purpose. Hundreds of starving people apply to him daily for relief.

The harvest in some parts of Veronesch was this year four-fifths below the average. In many districts there is less than 180 pounds of wheat to each person to last until the next harvest.

Hundreds Without Food.

In Makari, 1,119 persons out of a population of 1,530 are without food, and depend on charity. One-half of the live stock owned by the peasants has been sacrificed during the last two months for a mere trifle. The village of Orliwa, near Makari, is in a still worse plight. Many deaths have been caused by starvation.

In numerous towns numbers of families huddle together promiscuously like cattle. The result is a terrible state of immorality. Many cases are known where fathers have had immoral relations with their sons' wives, and domestic tragedies, which never reach western ears, arise from these incestuous relations.

Princess Engeme, of Oldenburg, who owns a large sugar factory at Rannou, Veronesch, mixes sugar beet refuse with rye meal, the mixture making an excellent bread for the starving.

The amount of corn doled out in some villages is insufficient, affording the villagers only one meal in two days.

In Veronesch, at the beginning of the winter, it was proposed to send horses to pasture in the Caucasus, but the government forbade the carrying out of the scheme, declaring that it would deprive the peasants of employment as carriers. Many of the horses are now dead or are dying of starvation.

Influenza in a Female College.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Influenza has appeared among the girl students of Girton college, Cambridge. The complaint, although happily not virulent, has had the effect of prostrating half of the young women in the college.

Enforcing the Sunday Law.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 25.—In future the observance of Sunday is to be strictly enforced in Russia and all shops and business houses closed.

French Steamer Supposed to Be Lost.

TUNIS, Jan. 25.—The French steamer Patrie, hence Jan. 10, for Marseilles, is supposed to have been lost, with all on board, in a storm.

FIRST RAIN IN FOUR YEARS.

Long Drouth in Durango, Mex., Broken, to the Joy of the Starving People.

DURANGO, Jan. 25.—The prolonged drouth that is causing such intense suffering throughout the state of Durango among the people and stock has at last been broken. Rain has been falling here for several days. This is the first rain that has fallen here in years. The excitement of the people, particularly the lower classes, on account of the down-pour, can not be described. In this city the streets are thronged with the half-famished hordes, who are giving vent to expressions of delight in every conceivable manner.

The Catholic cathedrals are crowded at all hours with devout worshippers, who are offering up their thankfulness to divine providence for the blessing in sending rain. The suffering, however, among the people is far from being over. The present rain will greatly benefit next season's crops, but they will not be ready to harvest until next August. Between now and that time thousands of people in the state will die of starvation unless the government continues to give them aid. One hundred thousand bushels of corn have already been shipped here from the United States, but it has nearly all been distributed and used. It is estimated that it will require no less than 500,000 bushels to prevent suffering among the people of this city and immediate surrounding sections.

Chicagoans Will Not Control the Fair.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Director General Davis, of the world's fair, will be allowed to install exhibits as he may see fit. The result was a victory for Colonel Davis over the stand taken by President Baker that the local directory should regulate the general arrangement of exhibits.

School Closed by the Grip.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 25.—District school No. 6, in Union township, this county, has been closed indefinitely on account of the prevalence of the grip.

VALUABLE STABLES BURNED.

Three Hundred Mules and Sixteen Horses Perish in the Fire—Hendon Visited by a Two-Hundred-Thousand-Dollar Fire—Other Fire Losses.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25.—Three hundred mules and sixteen horses were burned in a fire at Sparks Brothers' mule market, Eighteenth and Bell streets, Friday morning. The fire started in a haymow shortly after 2 o'clock, from what cause is not known, and was soon beyond control. A man named Wood lost a stallion worth $2,000. There were in the barn several carriages and other vehicles, making the total loss between $35,000 and $40,000. The amount of Sparks Brothers' insurance is not known.

A $200,000 Fire in Boston.

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The Ferdinand street branch of the Boston Electric Light company was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The fire broke out about 3:30 o'clock and was under control in an hour.
